

Learning for Sustainability Scotland's Networking ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING will be held from 1.00pm on Tuesday 9 December in Paterson's Land G21, Moray House School of Education, , University of Edinburgh, EH8 8AQ

As the UN Decade of Education for Sustainable Development comes to a close, this year's AGM will reflect on progress over the last year and consider how to ensure that the growing momentum for learning for sustainability continues. Particular emphasis will be on where to next for the LfS sector in a post independence referendum Scotland and a look at how to successfully tap into the various types of funding streams available for your work.

As a valued member of Learning for Sustainability Scotland you are invited take part in this AGM.

For you, this is a chance to:

- Find out about and contribute to future plans for Learning for Sustainability Scotland and the sector in general
- Take part in interactive workshops, which will provide you with practical skills to take with you back into you organisation
- Meet and network with other interested members over a relaxed lunch

Programme

13:00 Arrival, light lunch & registration

13:30 Welcome

13:45 Learning for Sustainability Scotland - One Year On

- Updates on LfS Scotland, the End of UN Decade of Education for Sustainable Development conferences in Japan and LfS in context – a past, present & future mapping project update

14:15 Round table discussion groups on LfS Scotland in the coming years, as well as ways you can be involved and develop your own work and interests

14:35 Refreshment break

14:55 Interactive workshops – no need to choose you can attend both.

- Workshop 1: Where to next for LfS in post-indy ref Scotland? The next decade

Workshop 2: How to resource our next steps 16:15 Final thoughts & close 16:30 A chance to network with colleagues & friends old and new – should you wish.